The 19th International Conference on Systems Research, Informatics and Cybernetics (InterSymp-2007) and The 27th Annual Meeting of the International Institute for Advanced Studies in Systems Research and Cybernetics (IIAS) to be held July 30-August 4, 2007 in Baden-Baden, Germany

TRAVEL INFORMATION

Baden-Baden is a beautiful spa-resort town and convention center located in the middle of the Black Forest in the western part of Germany. It can be reached in two hours by train from Frankfurt or Stuttgart. The best way to travel to the conference site is to fly first to Frankfurt (or Stuttgart) and then to take an express train to Baden-Baden. Those travelling by car can reach Baden-Baden through Hwy (Autobahn) A5 (Frankfurt-Basel) or through Hwy A8 Stuttgart - Karlsruhe).

The conference will be held in the building of the Markgraf-Ludwig-Gymnasium, located at Hardstrasse 2 in the center of Baden-Baden. This conference site can be easily reached from Baden-Baden train station by city bus travelling to Augustaplatz, or by taxi.

ACCOMMODATION

All conference participants are responsible for making their own travel arrangements and hotel reservations. Convenient and reasonable accommodation is available in various Baden-Baden hotels, some of which are listed on the IIAS Home page http://www.iias.edu. Prices for accommodations range between US$ 60.00 and US$ 160.00 per day, depending on hotel category and the type of occupancy (single, double, etc.). Participants or their travel agencies should make a reservation in a hotel of their choice by E-mail or by fax, and/or in writing, indicating preferred price range, type of occupancy and the length of intended stay. This reservation should be made as soon as possible. July and August are very popular vacation months in Europe and preferred flights and hotel accommodation may not be easily available unless booked well in advance.
